

Wild Schooner Chase

Coast Guardsmen went on a wild schooner chase, scouring the seas for the schooner Keowin, believed drifting in the Atlantic with two boys, David Parrot (above), 4, and his 10-month-old brother, Steven, locked below decks. The search started when a freighter sighted a "derelict" ship which fitted the description of the Keowin. It was thought Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parrot had been swept overboard. But it turned out to be a case of mistaken identity, and the Keowin is safe. The freighter actually sighted the schooner Windfall when that ship's crew was all seasick below decks. (NEA Telephoto)

Rescue Crews Work All Night Trying To Reach Child

Kathy Fiscus, 3, Caught 100 Feet in Well; Fell Chasing Her Sister in Lot

San Marino, Calif., April 9 (AP)—Rescue crews today reached the depth at which 3½-year-old Kathy Fiscus is believed trapped inside a 14-inch casing, an abandoned well 120 feet deep.

Men, armed with torches descended to cut through the casing at a depth of 85 feet. They are in a 25-foot-wide hole gouged during the night by giant crane shovels under the glare of 50 floodlights.

A smaller hole was dug deeper, but plans to use it to reach the casing were abandoned. Crews in the bigger hole used crowbars to pry away rocks and dirt to reach the outside of the casing.

Soup kitchens were set up for the grimy, skilled dirt crews. But there was no sound from within the pipe, where at least 87 feet down the child has been wedged since 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. And little hope was held of reaching her until 7 a. m. today.

It will take until then, engineers say, for the well-digging rig to sink a 30-inch pipeline to the girl's level and enable a rescuer to cut through to the youngsters.

Airport Money Found, Cargo Clerk Is Held

New York, April 9 (AP)—Fifty thousand dollars reported missing yesterday at New York International Airport was recovered early today.

Police said an air cargo clerk had admitted taking the money. All of it was recovered in a vacant lot.

A manila envelope containing the cash was reported missing after it was left on a desk in the offices of the K.L.M. Royal Dutch Airlines.

An extensive search was launched. An Amsterdam-bound plane was held up at Gander, Newfoundland, while officials looked through cargo, and searched the crew.

After a night-long investigation, Robert T. Murphy, 25-year-old K.L.M. clerk, was charged with grand larceny in the theft. Police said Murphy, former army paratrooper, admitted taking the money when he quit work Thursday midnight.

Police said he led them to a lot about a mile from the entrance of the airport where the envelope was found buried.

The money—five hundred $100 bills—was delivered to the airport Thursday night.

It was being sent by a Broad street investment banking house to Adler & Co., an investment house in Zurich, Switzerland.

Police said Murphy had buried the envelope early yesterday, after carrying it with him during an early morning outing with an unidentified young woman.

Must Win In '50 Says Truman

Promise of Million Fund Is Spur to Democrats' Hopes of Getting More Congressmen Praises Program

President Cites Deficit Tendency Before and After Campaigns

Washington, April 9 (AP)—Democratic plans to capture the 1950 elections were spurred today by the promise of a $1,000,000 war chest and a presidential order that they "must be won."

Addressing a rousing buffet dinner rally last night in Washington's Mayflower Hotel, President Truman kindled Democratic hopes for another victory in next year's congressional contests.

Speaking above the cheers of the men and women who arranged this year's profitable Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners, the President declared:

"I am exceedingly happy that you have been able to arrange a situation which will give the party a financial background with which to win in 1950, because that election must be won. It is important."

"We have a program which we expect to put over. That program is progressing successfully and satisfactorily, and after the next session of Congress we can go to the country and say what we have done and what we hope to do and what we will do when we elect the Congress in 1950."

The $1,000,000 war chest, to finance the 1950 campaign was promised by Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman, and William M. Boyle, Jr., executive vice chairman.

They told the audience of a little more than 100 that the party is approaching a "pay-as-you-go" basis and that it is in the midst of a financial drive which should net $1 million dollars to "face the foe" in 1950.

McGrath said the party should net between $280,000 and $300,000 from this year's Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners which the party was called to celebrate.

President Truman said he was "not used to figures" like the million dollars his party has promised, either "personally or as a Democrat."

As President of the United States, he added, he considers billions, and the million dollars "are small change."

On the other hand, he went on: "I never in my life ran for office that the Democrats didn't have a deficit to start with and end up with a deficit after they got through."

Albania Must Pay For British Ships

The Hague, The Netherlands, April 9 (AP)—The International Court of Justice, in the first verdict in its history, has decided Albania is responsible for the mining of two British destroyers in the Corfu Channel.

The verdict, announced today, ordered Albania to pay damages. Britain had claimed 950,000 pounds ($9,500,000) reparations for the mining of the ships, the death of 44 seamen on the destroyers, and injury of 42 others. The explosion occurred Oct. 22, 1946.

M. Guerrero of Salvador, president of the court, said the amount of damages would be fixed later. He said the court also found that Britain did not notify Albania of the ships being sent into those waters.

Britain accused Albania of mining the channel and failing to tell other powers.

He testified that Struik cited

Mental State May Be Used In Defense of Banker Crowe

New York, April 9 (AP)—Richard Crowe's attorney has hinted that the ex-banker's mental state may figure in his defense against charges that he stole nearly a million dollars from a branch bank where he was assistant manager.

"He isn't himself," Attorney Peter F. Gulotta said yesterday, shortly after a federal grand jury indicted Crowe on charges of stealing $883,660 from a branch of the National City Bank.

"When I saw him Thursday, he had a funny look in his eyes," the attorney said. "I've known him for 15 years as a lovable, nice, jovial kind of fellow. There is something wrong with Dick Crowe."

Four indictments, under three different laws, were returned against Crowe. If convicted, he could draw up to 45 years in prison and $30,000 in fines.

He will be arraigned in U. S. District Court Monday.

Authorities gave new details of the theft yesterday, telling how Crowe had to work in frantic haste to remove the money.

Federal officials gave this account:

Between 4 p. m. and 4:45 p. m., on March 25, Crowe took four cash strong boxes out of a vault, and hid them in an adjoining closet.

On that day, it was his turn to close the vault for the night, a job shared by various bank officials.

For some reason—that day, the branch manager stayed unusually late.

When he left, it was 5:40 p. m., only 20 minutes before the clean-up women arrived.

In that time, Crowe rushed to the basement, pried open the strong boxes with tools he had brought the day before. He scooped out $193,660 in cash, then removed $690,000 worth of bonds from a vault, and closed it, using his tools to jam the time locks.

His haste was so great that he

$4,500,000 Saved On State Housing

New York, April 9 (AP)—Various measures have enabled the state to save $4,500,000 in the construction of low-rent housing projects at Mount Vernon, Schenectady, Utica and Fulton.

This was reported yesterday by State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stichtman. He said the amount saved would permit the building of "at least 400 additional apartments for low-income families."

He said the savings were made possible through economies in design, greater competitive bidding and a low construction market.

Another saving of $26,430 was reported for the Windbrook apartments in White Plains. This was accomplished, Stichtman said, by rejection of a $144,650 bid for electrical work as too high. The same bidder then offered to do the work for $118,200.

19 Labor Unions Back Project for 12th Ward Housing

Letters and Resolutions Sent to Trades Council Endorse State Home Program

Letters of resolution from 19 labor union locals endorsing the proposed low-cost housing project for Kingston have been received at the office of the Kingston Metal Trades Council from the following:

Boilermakers Local No. 720, Laborers Local 17, Ironworkers Local 417, Federal Labor Union 2327, Bricklayers Local 14, Plumbers Local 223, Tile Setters Local 83, Roofers Local 99, City Employees Local 316, Lathers Local 386, Carpenters Locals 251, 1175 and 1545, Painters Local 255, Electricians Local 645, Sheet-metal Workers Local 38, Teamsters Local 445, Hotel, Bartenders Local 686 and County Employees Local 683, all affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The project has been endorsed also by Ulster County Building and Construction Trades Council, A.F.L.; Kingston Metal Trades Council, A.F.L.; and Ulster County District Council of Carpenters, A.F.L. A letter of endorsement has also been received from the Canfield Supply Company, George Kingman, treasurer.

Carr Plans Appeal From Jail Sentence

Ottawa, April 9 (AP)—Two mysteries related to the Sam Carr spy case lingered today, as Carr planned an appeal from his conviction and six year prison sentence for charges of conspiring to forge a passport for a Soviet secret agent.

There still was no clue to the whereabouts of the man alleged to have used the forged passport. And officials kept tight silence on what was being done at out of London Criminal Court.

He testified in the trial Tuesday that he once had agreed to spy in Japan for the Russians and that he also had given them a report on United States air force training.

May Be Able to Check Cancer Two Years Ahead

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

Washington, April 9 (AP)—Discovery of a possible method of forecasting cancer of the womb from one to two years before it develops was disclosed today by a Canadian doctor.

Cancer of the womb is one of the most frequent of all malignancies. It kills approximately 26,000 women annually in the United States alone.

Dr. J. Ernest Ayre of Montreal's Royal Victoria Hospital and McGill University said his new technique has been successful in forecasting womb cancer in nine women.

Ayre said that opens up the possibility of tracking the development of such cancers in all "victims" and attacking them at the earliest and most curable stage.

The technique is based on Ayre's discovery of a new type of human cell—one which he says he and his colleagues believe to be a forerunner of an actual cancer cell.

It has a peculiar nucleus, or central part, that makes it different from both a normal cell and a cancer cell.

Early Evidence

"It is a signal that cancer will develop there in one to two years."

School Child Apologizes For Threat Note to Mayor

Railroad Tells C. of C. Utica Is Best for Freight

When it was heard that the West Shore Railroad freight transfer operations would be closed here, the Chamber of Commerce office contacted A. A. Burkhardt, superintendent of transfer and stations in Syracuse. The Chamber was informed that a curtailment would be made and that about 50 per cent of the present volume of less-than-carload freight handled here would be moved to more logical transfer points to improve the service. Mr. Burkhardt stated that the present set-up was a war-time emergency arrangement continued as long as possible. He stated that there is too much time lost in bringing the mainline L. C. L. freight to Kingston for re-distribution. All freight between Weehawken and Albany and the branch lines from here, will still be handled locally. Mr. Burkhardt expressed the hope that a speeding up of the service would regain some of the freight lost during the last few years. He stated that service complaints and loss of L. C. L. freight business made the move necessary.

President Robert E. Teetsel stated today that the Chamber of Commerce is interested in maintaining full employment for men. An effort was made to influence the railroad to maintain all of the transfer work here but the officials stated that the move was an absolute economic necessity and was delayed as long as possible.

Letter to Police Is in Same Hand; Probe Not Ended

"I am sorry for the trouble I have caused," wrote a school child in an unsigned letter received by Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren this morning.

The letter was in reference to the threatening letter received by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk this week.

The receipt of this second letter was revealed today by District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, who said that apparently it was printed by the same hand as the earlier "threatening" letter.

The letter of apology was written on a light green sheet of paper six by four inches and torn from a pad, the district attorney said. The envelope was addressed "Police Chief, City Hall," and the letter reads:

Dear Sir:

I am sorry for the trouble I have caused by my note to the mayor. Until I read the paper, I had no idea I had done something bad. I go to school here and my mother and father would probably die of shame if they knew I did it. I have no intentions of hurting anyone. I only tried to scare him because so many people up here oppose it.

District Attorney Bruhn said today the investigation will be continued. He suggested that it would be advisable for the person writing the letters to contact him or the police chief before leaving.

Hosiery Merchant At Crossing Buys Commerce Office

The building at 422 Broadway which houses the New York State Department of Commerce regional office has been purchased by Benjamin Israel from its owner, Louis Perry of Gill Street.

Israel, owner of a hosiery shop at 526 Broadway, purchased the building as a location for that business if it should be forced to move because of the planned Broadway railroad crossing elimination, according to Miss Lillian J. Israel, manager of the hosiery store.

The Department of Commerce office will be permitted to remain pending actual construction on the crossing elimination, Miss Israel said.

Dale Swartzmiller, regional manager for the commerce department, said that office will not be affected by the property transfer immediately and will remain at 422 Broadway for the time being and until the building is actually needed by its new owner. The commerce office has been at that location about three years.

Chinese Red Leader May Ease Attitude

Shanghai, April 9 (AP)—The Chinese Communists radio said today Red leader Mao Tse-tung was ready to liberalize its attitude for the sake of peace in all of China.

The Peiping broadcast in the Chinese language made a vague reference to the effect that Marshal Li Chi-shen, head of the Kuomintang (Nationalist party) revolutionary committee, would be an instrument for a nationwide settlement of the civil war.

(The marshal, long an opponent of Chiang Kai-shek's government, now is in Communist China. He went there some time ago from Hong Kong where he was a leader of a dissent group which was outlawed by the Nationalist regime.)

Dewey Favors Pact; Declares Growing Italy Needs Colonies

New York, April 9 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, in an address devoted largely to international affairs, last night urged full implementation of the Atlantic Pact.

Earlier in the day, he made a 43-minute aerial sightseeing tour of the New York area.

Dewey spoke at a dinner honoring Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza.

He said the Atlantic Pact speaks against war "in the only language some people can understand." It stresses military power, he said, "only in order that military power shall be strong enough so it will never have to be used."

"It is the hope and prayer of all of us," he added, "that it will be fully implemented and that its high purpose will be achieved."

Eight western European nations have requested U. S. arms supplies to implement the alliance. Dewey expressed hope that Italy would be permitted to share in the development of her former

Military Control Out When Republic Sets Up Program; Troops Will Keep Watch

Germany Must Act

British, French, U.S. Share View Move Is Best for Peace

Washington, April 9 (AP)—Officials expressed hope today that a new three-power agreement on Germany, bringing the western nations into closer unity than ever before, may improve chances for an eventual settlement with Russia.

The agreement announced yesterday will result in the merger of the American, British and French zones of occupation in western Germany, with the promise that military control—but not military occupation—will be dropped as soon as the Germans set up their own "federal republic."

The next move is up to Russia, which occupies eastern Germany. British and French leaders, who have recently emphasized their growing hopes for world peace, evidently share the American view that the German agreement is a constructive step in that direction.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee took the same attitude. He called it a "forward step" toward settling the dispute with Russia over the Berlin situation. Other senators saw in the plan a chance to cut U. S. expenses abroad.

The agreement, announced yesterday by Secretary of State Acheson and Foreign Ministers Bevin and Schuman, climaxed a ten-day period of diplomatic activity probably unprecedented in Washington's history.

Besides breaking the long disagreement over the former enemy country, those 10 days brought the signing of the Atlantic Pact—which President Truman plans to send to the Senate for ratification early next week—followed by requests from eight member nations for American arms and dollars under the treaty.

The Senate topped these events last night by giving its overwhelming approval, on a 70 to 7 vote, to another 15 months of Marshall Plan aid for western Europe.

All these developments were pulled together into a single package by Acheson late yesterday at a news conference held mainly to discuss the German settlement.

Asked whether that agreement might provide a basis for negotiations with the Soviet Union, Acheson said that while he knows of no such plans on the part of the West, he does think the new situation affords more hope for a solution of the East-West difficulties.

Must Act Quickly

Bonn, Germany, April 9 (AP)—German leaders were called upon today to form a west German Federal Government quickly or "face catastrophe."

The appeal for quick action, following up the three-power Washington agreement on Germany, was made by Dr. Konrad Adenauer, president of the Assembly drafting a constitution here.

"Failure to reach agreement would be a fiasco for the democratic idea in Germany," Adenauer told a news conference. "If unity is not achieved it will be a catastrophe for us all."

The west German political parties have been squabbling over small differences for months and this has held up the formation of a government.

The biggest differences have been between the left-wing Social Democrats (S.P.D.) and the conservative Christian Democrats (C.D.U.).

The point at issue is whether major financial control should rest with the Federal Government, as favored by the S.P.D., or with the states.

One Funeral Delayed

Hamburg, Germany (AP) — A woman's corpse lay for months in the morgue at Schwabentor because of a mix-up over her funeral, the German "Neue Illustrierte" reported. The body was in a coffin believed to be empty. The woman's adopted daughter, who knew nothing about the funeral because she thought her nephew had been buried to it. The nephew thought it had been arranged by the adopted daughter.

Kingston High School Band Shows Remarkable Progress in Few Months; Morrette Conducts

The Kingston High School Band under the direction of Marlin E. Morrette gave its concert Friday night at the high school auditorium. This was no feeble attempt at playing notes, this was a concert played by a band that in seven short months has risen to take its rightful place in a high school program. Sixty students are in the band.

With more than 800 attending the concert last night and the 1,000 youngsters at the grade school performance Tuesday afternoon, this band already has made a name for itself in many homes of the community. With continued spirit and cooperation this band will soon bring fame to K.H.S. as a music unit.

Watch this band. The young people seem to be enjoying music, they're much more careful about their stage appearance, and there is a real sense of musicianship, ensemble playing and style developing among the players.

Of course these young men and women didn't just naturally come to this ability in such a short span of time. To Mr. Morrette go compliments for bringing the band music students to perform as they did last night. To bring students from the point where they can barely hold an instrument correctly through the stages of correct fingering, and all these rudiments and sour notes to present such arrangements as "Kissin' Sinner" and "The Lord's Prayer," "Molotov: Bolero" by Tavel; in seven months is certainly a mighty task. The band's accompaniment for the soloists also was most creditable.

To be sure, there were some who had been with the institutional music organizations in previous years and some who have studied privately to improve techniques.

Richard Campbell, first clarinet, and Harry Castiglione, first trombone, were given the opportunity to perform in solo numbers with the band. Campbell gave an outstanding performance in the Rigolotto by Bassi and Castiglione played a beautiful "Lord's Prayer." Donald Dewitt, second chair in the clarinet section, was given the opportunity to conduct the orchestra in the Military Escort March as a reward for his work this year.

Oskar-Hedrick Schriever gave an accordion solo with the band accompaniment in March. His Honor by Fillmore, Roy Boldt, first horn player with the band, took the part of a soloist when he played piano solo with the band in Bennett's Repertoire. Again the soloists added much to the musical program.

For variety, John Marusek read the story of Jack and the Beanstalk while the band played appropriate accompaniments. Eight of the K.H.S. twirlers under the direction of Barbara Roosa gave exhibitions during the playing of "The Billboard and Stars and Stripes Forever."

During the concert Mr. Morrette paid tribute to Harry Berchin, director of string instruments and orchestra work, who played sax with the band members last night. Mr. Berchin in cooperation with Mr. Morrette canceled his orchestra rehearsals for two weeks prior to the concert so the band could have extra rehearsals. He also spoke of the cooperation received from Miss Lulu Roberts, instrumental teacher in the grade schools who assisted in taking charge of tickets for the grade school concert. Leonard Stine, music supervisor arranged for the ushers and Mr. Morrette said much from the A Cappella Choir concert this year will also be used for band uniforms.

Mr. Morrette also paid tribute to Clarence L. Dumm, principal, who has assisted the band in many ways during the year and who is completing his years of service at Kingston High School this year.

As a special tribute the conductor introduced the seniors in the band. He was presented with a gift on behalf of the band by Miss Helen Kukuk, a senior and bassoon player.

Robert Willaman, author of "The Clarinet and Clarinet Playing," was introduced. Mr. Willaman who now makes his home in Salt Point is one of the outstanding first clarinetists in the country and has had as pupils the first and second chair clarinetists in the K.H.S. band. Mr. Willaman played clarinet with the Kingston Concert Band in the Sousa Memorial Concert at the Academy Green last summer. His book on clarinet playing which was published during the year has won world wide recognition with an order coming from the public library at Johannesburg, South Africa. Mr. Willaman has been invited to lecture for two days at the University of Michigan by William Revell, noted school bandmaster.

In conclusion the band played as an encore its version of the popular Buttons and Bows.

Appreciative Note Received By Cancer Pad, Jacket Makers

A letter of appreciation for the work being done by local women for the Rosary Hill Home for Incurable Cancer Patients has been received by Mrs. Vincent A. Gorman, supervisor of the work. The letter from Mother M. Siena, mother general of the hospital, was written especially in response to the last shipment of 5,137 pads and 185 bed jackets sent last month.

The letter follows: Dear Mrs. Gorman, "To say 'thank you' cannot begin to express to you and to the members of your group our deep and heartfelt gratitude for the wonderfully generous contribution of pads just received. We welcome this opportunity to extend to you our most profound thankfulness, not alone for this liberal donation, but for all the charity you have shown us on so many other occasions. "Your devoted cooperation provides our sufferers with the comfort which otherwise would be denied them and your continued interest is a source of very real encouragement in our ministrations to these sick. The work established by Mother Alphonsa is made possible only through the charity of our friends, and to you we can never be sufficiently grateful. "With every cordial wish and our prayers always, I am, Very sincerely yours, MOTHER M. SIENA."

Glasco Couple Plan Wedding

Saugerties, April 9—Announcement is made of the coming marriage of Miss Florine Bruno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bruno of Glasco, to Vincent Ferraro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ferraro of Glasco. The wedding will take place in St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, Sunday afternoon, April 24.

Soloist Named For Good Friday Cantata Service

Miss Joan Ten Eyck, John McCullough and James Halbert will sing the solos in the presentation of "The Seven Last Words by Theodore DuBois Good Friday night at Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The service of music has been arranged by Leonard Stine, choir director of the church, and will be broadcast over the local radio station.

The choruses for the sacred cantata will be sung by the combined senior choirs of the Redeemer Church and the First Dutch Reformed Church.

Miss Ten Eyck whose home is in Hurley is a senior at Kingston High School where she is majoring in music and is a member of the A Cappella Choir. She has sung solos with the choir and has appeared in a number of programs in this vicinity. She is a soprano in the Redeemer church choir.

Mr. McCullough of 98 Spring street is tenor soloist at the Round Presbyterian Werts Street Baptist Church, where he also is a member of the church music committee. He is secretary of the Mendelssohn Club, Oratorio Society and other groups.

Mr. Halbert is majoring in the music supervisor's course at Fredonia State Teacher College where he is a leading bass soloist. While at Kingston High School he was a soloist with A Cappella Choir. He also has sung on a number of occasions in this area.

Mr. Stine will conduct the cantata and Frederick Richens, organist of Redeemer Church, will play the accompaniments. The service will begin at 7:45 p. m.

Stone Ridge Library Sets Fair Date

Miss Katherine Hasbrouck, president of the Stone Ridge Library, announced Saturday, July 23, as the date when the Library Association will hold its annual fair on the library grounds in the village of Stone Ridge.

The announcement of the date has been made in time to solicit donations for the miscellaneous table. Springtime is a house-cleaning season and the committee hopes that in the grand cleanup from attic to cellar, housewives will keep in mind and reserve a goodly assortment of objects that to enrich the list of wares.

"This fair is the one major money-making project held by the library to raise funds for its financial needs," Miss Hasbrouck explains. The Stone Ridge Library serves its territory in many ways. Under its auspices the bi-weekly free movies for the children of the village are supplied. A new winter project has been inaugurated this year which has carried moving pictures into the Marbletown schoolrooms; a recent picture, Treasure Island, having hit a peak in district audience enthusiasm.

The Stone Ridge Library functions in a year round educational capacity.

Ellenville Man to Wed

Miss Reardon of Brighton Ellenville, April 9—Mrs. John A. Reardon, Jr., of Brighton, Mass., has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Marie Therese Reardon, to William J. Hart, son of Mrs. Harry Hart of this village and the late Mr. Hart.

Miss Reardon who served with the Marine auxiliary corps during the war is a graduate of Cambridge Junior College and Katharine Gibbs School.

Mr. Hart served with the army in Europe and the Pacific and is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Says First Vows In Maryknoll Sisters

Sister Rose Fidelis, formerly Miss Mary Anne Quilley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Quilley, 11 Abell street, pronounced her first vows with a class of Maryknoll Sisters at Motherhouse Chapel, Maryknoll, New York, Wednesday afternoon. The Maryknoll Sisters are a congregation of American women, more than 950, whose lives are dedicated to God in Catholic foreign missions.

Sister Rose Fidelis is a graduate of St. Mary's parochial school and Kingston High School. She was employed by Dr. S. R. Risch as optometrist's assistant and secretary for two years before entering Maryknoll in the fall of 1946. At St. Mary's parish she was an active member of the Children of Mary Society of which she was president; and of the Newman Club of which she served as vice president and secretary.

Music Group Elects Officers for Year

Mrs. Conrad J. Heiselman was elected president of the Y.W.C.A. Women's Club at its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Reppert, Manor avenue. Mrs. Willard Burke was elected vice president; Mrs. Arthur Ellison, secretary; and Mrs. William S. Jackson, treasurer.

Papers were presented on Paul Hindemith and Bela Bartok, both of whom sought refuge in the United States.

Mrs. J. J. Herlihy in describing Hindemith spoke of him as a German genius exiled from his native country because of the Nazi purge. He came to this country in 1937 and now teaches at Yale University. His parents objected to his study of music so he left home and worked hard for his education. He won many prizes and was graduated from Hochschule fur Musik in Frankfurt where he returned as a concert master and later director in the Frankfurt Opera. His instruments are viola and violin.

Hindemith's music is extremely modern, the study explained, although his style is similar to Bach. His compositions are chamber music, short operas and vocal music. Mrs. Herlihy played a recording of String Quartet No. 4 Opus 32 played by the Guleit String Quartet.

Bela Bartok, Hungarian composer who sought refuge in America because of hostility to his style. A fine pianist, he was a child prodigy and gave his first recital at the age of 10. He included many of his own compositions. He was graduated from the Royal Hungarian Academy in Budapest and later returned there to teach piano.

His life, like his music, was colorful Mrs. Ellison said. Armed with a note book and recorder, he traveled extensively among the peasants and lived with them to accumulate folk songs and lore. He wrote many songs and many books on folk music especially pertaining to the Magyars.

She spoke of his music as primitive in foundation but strongly modern in style. Grounded on Beethoven and Bach, his type was more like Strauss whom he idolized. Four years before his death he came to America. His works were in ballet and opera, the most famous being "Bluebeard."

Mrs. Ellison played recordings of a concerto played by Yehudi Menuhin, violinist, and the Dallas Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Antal Dorati; Piano Concerto No. 3 by the Philadelphia Orchestra, Eugene Ormandy, conductor.

Following the meeting tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Joseph Garland and Mrs. William Petry. Mrs. Robert Finley poured.

The next meeting will be April 21, at the home of Mrs. Ward Brigham, 73 Linderman avenue.

Winchell Tops Class; Reynolds Is High At State Institute

Bruce Winchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Winchell, 43 Wilkewick avenue, has maintained the highest average of all the senior students at the New York State Institute of Applied Arts and Sciences, White Plains. His average at the end of his second quarter was 94.9 per cent. He also holds record of being the only student to completely build a television set in 24 hours lab.

Arnold Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reynolds, Bearsville, a first year electrical student, has maintained an 89.5 average at the same institute.

Youth Center Dance Tonight To Be Last Until After Easter

Must Take Interest

Buffalo, N. Y., April 9 (AP)—Professing Christians must "take their democratic responsibilities seriously," according to Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, if they are to end what he termed "the political corruption" of many cities.

"The citizen who refuses to bear his political responsibility," he said, "is no better than a man who separates himself from the suffering of humanity in order to save his soul."

All on Same Day

Columbus, O., April 9 (AP)—It will be a triple birthday party for Mr. and Mrs. J. Rowland's three children today. Charlotte, 4, David, 2, and Danny, 1, were all born on April 9 and will carry the triple affair a little farther, all three are left-handed, red-haired and were delivered by the same physician. They'll even have three cakes.

Care Is Needed In Purchase of Site for Home

Many of those things which make a vacant lot a potential homestead cannot be measured by a surveyor nor guaranteed with the abstract. So it's just as well not to rely entirely on what the real estate salesman says about a particular piece of property.

There are certain points on which the prospective buyer should check up for himself. The neighbors, the schools and transportation facilities have more to do with future satisfaction than the big oak tree or the clump of lilacs in the corner.

Are the people near by the type you wish to live among? From visits to the schools and the churches, investigations of the clubs and civic organizations, inspections of the parks and the library, one can tell a fairly accurate idea of the people in a community.

Not only the scholastic rating of the school system, but also the proximity of the school, dangerous crossings and convenience to church, park, library and shopping centers are other factors to be seriously considered.

Is the street a quiet by-way with light traffic or is it a noisy, dusty main thoroughfare? Do building regulations govern the type of structure and the distance it must be set back from the street?

And, before signing a contract to buy any piece of property, be sure to have a survey made by a competent engineer and make certain that the boundary lines are exactly as represented. More than one land buyer has come to grief through failure to take this precaution.

After all these dull matters have been attended to, the buyer may turn to the more interesting feature—the character of the land itself.

There'll be plenty of time to gloat over the beauty or the convenience of the location.

Remember that buying a lot to build on is quite a permanent matter—a decision you'll have to abide by for a long time. So take it easy.

Hints for Care of Linoleum

Since one of the chief ingredients of linoleum is linseed oil, alkali cleaners should be avoided. Neither should abrasives be used—unless most sparingly on spots. Strong soaps should be avoided. Linoleum, when laid, should be either waxed or varnished so that the surface finish will be carefully preserved, and the penetration of water into the linoleum with resultant deterioration, will be prevented. The linoleum will also be more easy to keep clean if the surface is not marred.

Modernization of An Old House

The modernization of an old house invariably presents perplexing problems to the layman. Altering or remodeling a building of any character is an undertaking in which the services of experienced architects, contractors and carpenters should be enlisted.

"Will cutting additional windows in an old house weaken the walls?" inquires a reader. He discovered after buying the property that the old pine flooring had begun to splinter, and that there was depressions in the floors in front of doorways. He wants to know further whether the floors can be repaired.

The answer to the first question is that cutting new windows in the walls will not necessarily weaken the structure. It depends largely upon just where the windows are to be placed and what structural members are affected.

Care should be exercised to see that no bracing members are cut or if they are, that adequate substitute reinforcements are installed. Where studs are removed, bridging must be provided over the opening and additional studs installed at the sides of the opening to adequately carry the load.

If the worn floors are made of edge-grain boards, it may be possible to scrape and sandpaper them to a level and satisfactory finish.

If the flooring is of flat-grain boards, it would be better to have new floors laid. Advice should be sought from a competent carpenter.

Uninsulated Pipes Cause Fuel Waste

Millions of gallons of water and enormous amounts of fuel are wasted in the homes of America every year because hot water supply pipes are located within cold outside walls.

Before hot water can reach the faucets, the entire pipe must be heated but several gallons of water are required to do it. Also additional fuel is used to heat this wasted water.

This condition can be overcome if the water supply pipes are protected by insulation within the walls. Fireproof mineral wool can be blown into such spaces and the insulation then surrounding the pipes will retain the heat generated by the warm water in them for long periods and there will be no long, wasteful waits for hot water.

Joker in the Rent

Furniture tie-ins are still a joker in many New York apartment rentals. More vacancies at moderate rents are reported there but in many cases the prospective tenant must pay the landlord's own price for household goods already in the apartment, despite the government ruling against this type of deal.

Gloomy Laundry Rooms Now Are Thing of the Past

In every house there is a utility room or a basement. Some home owners desire a basement and if the laundry is to be placed in the basement, there is no reason why it need be dark and gloomy as was the case in most of the older homes. Basement walls and ceiling may be finished with wall board and painted a light color.

There need be no dampness nor chilliness in the basement if there are enough windows to provide cross ventilation and light. It is best to have the basement partly above the surrounding grade and the heads of the windows should never be below the grade.

Good lighting is important, and when wiring your house, be sure that enough electric light outlets including plug outlets, are placed in the basement. There should be a light over the tubs, near the heating plant, and wherever else work is to be done. It is best to place the base plugs about three feet above the floor because of dampness and moisture that might get into these convenience outlets.

The laundry tubs should be placed under windows, and there should be a floor drain close by so that the water from the tubs and washing machine can be emptied into the floor drain.

Room should be provided for a long table for sorting clothes and for other uses that will be needed in the laundry.

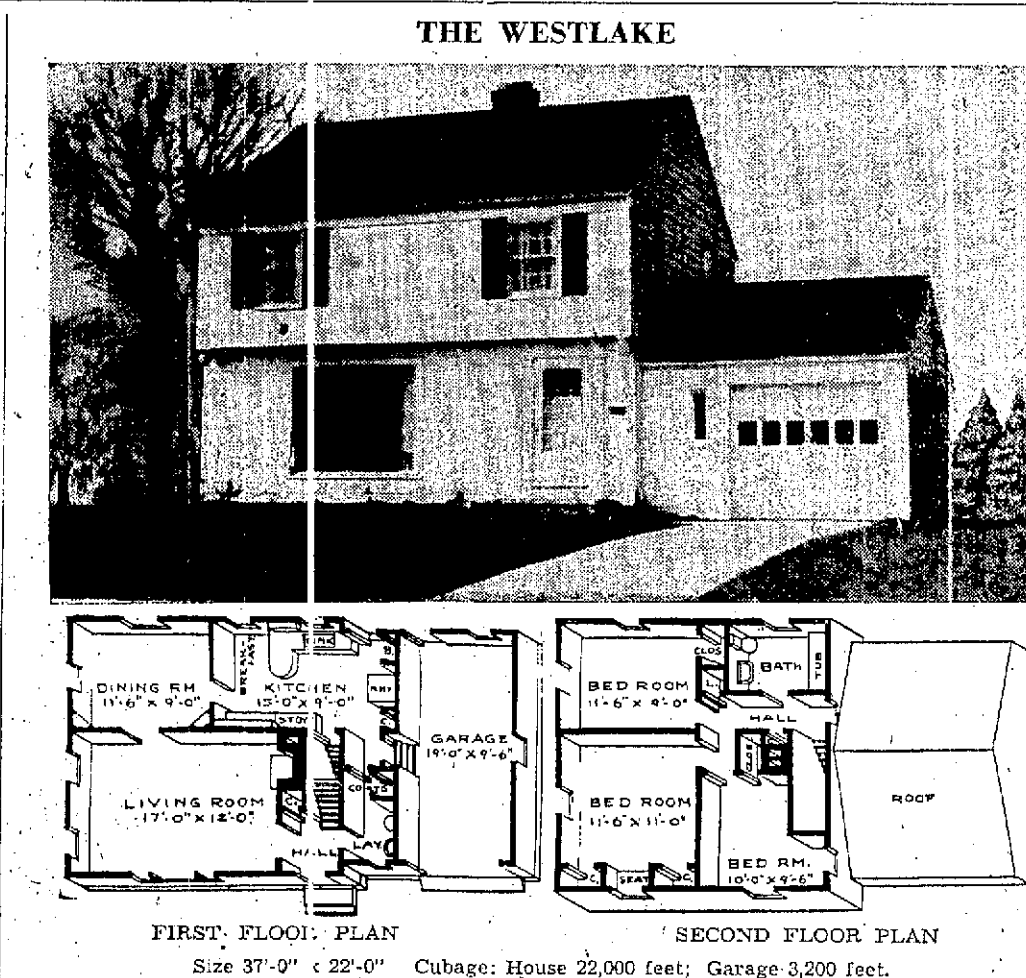

Some women like to have two or three built-in bins near the laundry tubs in which the soiled clothes may be sorted previous to the washing. Provide for an ironing board or mangle, and for a cabinet for breakfast dishes, children's silverware and dishes, and electric cooking equipment such as grill, percolator and waffle iron.

Wide Attic Stairs Prove Useful

When building a house see that the stairs to the attic are of practical width. The size of the attic door and stairway determines how useful the attic will be. Remember the heavy trunks and cumbersome furniture that may have to go up and down and gauge the width accordingly. Also remember that some day you may want to remake your attic into an extra bedroom or study and you will not want to ask your guest or family to walk the plank like chickens going to roost.

Metal Sink Bowls

Metal sink bowls that can be set into metal, linoleum, wood or plastic decks are available in all standard sizes, says Practical Builder. This satin-finish metal will not chip or rust, has strainers and removable baskets to match.

Garrison Colonial Is Given Picture Window

Breakfast Nook Desirable Feature

It is frequently desirable in houses which have full-sized dining rooms, to dedicate a corner for a breakfast nook, especially when there are junior members of the family.

The nook should have a built-in cabinet for breakfast dishes, children's silverware and dishes, and electric cooking equipment such as grill, percolator and waffle iron.

A folding table hinged to the wall may be built. A breakfast nook will reduce housework as well as wear and tear on the dining room furniture.

New Type Flooring

A new compound type of wood flooring so designed that it can be laid over any type of wood under flooring is offered home owners. The flooring is laminated and is said to reduce expansion and contraction to a minimum.

Compact House Will Fit on Lot Having 50-Foot Front

A house of Garrison-Colonial style, adapted to modern demand by giving it a picture window is introduced today by the Home of the Week Plan Service.

Recognizing the current high price of land in most choice residential neighborhoods, the designers have made this dwelling, "The Westlake," compact. The house measures 37x22 feet at the foundations and, with garage attached at the side as pictured, can be built on a lot with a 50-foot frontage.

The cubic content of the main house is 22,000 feet and with 3200 feet added for the garage, the total is 25,200 feet.

Structure Kept Low

The architects have deliberately kept the structure low and this feature has been accentuated by the low sill of the picture window and the low front step. The second-story overhang, which increases the floor space in the upstairs rooms, is accented by ball-shaped drops at the corners. Except for these ornaments, the exterior has been kept extremely simple for the sake of economy.

Construction expense is further reduced by making one side wall of the house serve as a side wall for the garage. This wall, of course, must be fireproof but cinder block will answer the purpose.

The outside walls of the house are finished with wooden clapboards, painted white, but shingles, brick or stone may be substituted.

If the lot is narrow, local building ordinances may require the side of the garage next to the property line to be built of fireproof material.

The front door opens into a hall with a coat closet at the left of the straight stairway to the second floor. There is a lavette at the right end of the hall and, at the left end, an archway opening on the living room. The lavette contains a large storage closet.

Living Room Well Lighted
The living room, measuring 17x12 feet, is lighted by its large picture window at the front, and two smaller windows at the side of the house. The fireplace is located in an inside corner, leaving a good unbroken wall expanse for large furniture. An arch in the long inside wall opens on the dining room.

The dining room also boasts a window looking out on the back yard and a smaller window. Two built-in china cabinets fill two corners of the room. Beside one of these is a swinging door opening into the kitchen.

The kitchen, measuring 15x9 feet, is so planned as to reserve a corner for a breakfast table and chairs, placed under a window at the rear. Another window in the same wall is above the sink which is centered in a working counter. At the end of the counter is the door to the rear service entry, a broom closet. A companion closet for clothing, in the same wall, creates a niche for the refrigerator.

On the long inside wall of the room is a built-in kitchen cabinet next to the stove.

L-Shaped Upstairs Hall
The second floor has an L-shaped hall, lighted by a window at the top of the stairs. This hall runs past the bathroom door, a coat closet and a linen closet before reaching doors to the three bedrooms.

If two bedrooms are enough for the family building this house, the partition between any two of the rooms may be eliminated, thus creating a large master bedroom from two smaller rooms.

As shown in the plan, the three bedrooms have dimensions of 11x12, 11x9, and 10x9½ feet. Each of the two smaller rooms contains one closet; the largest room has two closets, with a built-in window seat between them. All of the rooms have two windows for cross ventilation.

The roof of the house should be insulated and ventilating louvers should be placed in the gable ends.

A covered porch at the rear service entry, extending across to shelter the back door of the garage could be added at slight additional cost.

Complete plans and specifications for this "Home of the Week," or any other design of this series, are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact cost of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Questions, Answers

Plaster Drying Period
Q. How long should plaster be allowed to dry out before painting?

A. Plaster walls require several months to dry, depending to a large degree upon climatic conditions. When it is necessary to paint plaster upon the completion of a building, it is advisable to use cold water paint which is obtainable in various colors. All plaster walls, after being thoroughly dried, should receive coat of sizing before application of oil paint or wallpaper.

Smoking Fireplace

Q. Our fireplace smokes. It is about 40 inches wide, 18 inches deep, equipped with damper, and with flue, with lining, about 12 inches square and 20 feet high. We would like some information about the proper construction of a fireplace. Why does our smoke? A. You do not give the height of the fireplace opening, which is important. The 28-inch depth suggests that the height is too great. It would be so if it is more than two feet three inches. In general there is a relationship of about three of height to two of depth. Many smoking fireplaces built too shallow have been improved by building up the back hearth several inches in height. We suggest you make a trial of this with loose brick. The damper and flue size should be satisfactory.

Oil Saved in New Boilers

Today, more than ever before, the big demand in oil heating is fuel savings, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

This demand for the utmost in fuel-saving efficiency is reflected in the design of boilers. Oil-burning boilers have been designed so that powerful water circulation is set up the instant the burner goes on. The water travel is controlled by baffles which direct the flow of water over the sections exposed to the flame.

Multiple flue construction assures maximum ceiling heating surface with greater absorption of the heat units from the oil. The wet base construction of boilers permits water to circulate around and under the firebox. There is no loss of radiant heat because the firebox is completely surrounded by water. Furthermore, the wet base makes it possible to install the boiler on the wooden floor of a kitchen or utility room.

High-efficiency insulation under the jacket of the modern boiler reflects 95 per cent of the heat back into the boiler.

engineered so that they can be set up easily, quickly, and tightly to save time and labor.

Because of these high efficiency features, boilers can be constructed so compactly that a boiler of very small size will be entirely adequate to heat large homes.

In addition to their utilitarian features, boilers are attractive in appearance. The handsome colorful jacket of a boiler is in keeping with the most modern basement or utility room.

GOOD OLD KINGSTON

All Going Out, Nothing Coming In — Maybe! It All Depends On You

TO ALL PROGRESSIVE KINGSTONIANS:

It's up to you to appeal to your alderman, official spokesman for your ward, to vote in favor of the $1,200,000 project in the 12th Ward. That's what you elected him for, to carry out your wishes for the advancement of Kingston.

Let him know you want that free gift from New York State for your city. We might as well have it here as let it go elsewhere—and in the end have a certain proportion of our state taxes go to pay for what some other live community accepts.

Over a period of years, Kingston has lost a number of industries for one reason or another, one being a lack of housing. Then, too, some enterprises have been here and left. What about that $10,000 payroll the city will lose by the West Shore freight transfer to Utica.

This can't go on forever: ALL GOING OUT AND NOTHING COMING IN! Maybe you can't bring in an industry directly, but you can help by getting more homes.

Let's forget the days of the oxcart, roll ahead with the streamlined times. GET THAT HOUSING PROJECT.

And, let's consider it from the standpoint that our churches would: Give comfort to those in distress, who need a hearth to raise their American families, the kids who'll grow up and fight our wars like the veterans whom some would keep out of their neighborhood. And, what about the boys who never came back? There could be no better memorial to their sacrifice than homes for their comrades who came back from the wars and would have to go again if called to Defend Democracy, the Democracy that is being forgotten by a few who would step into the category of the war profiteers to satisfy a selfish motive.

Remember, whether you live uptown, downtown, or in any other section of Kingston men are all created equal and entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, just as in the days when our forefathers fought for these principles and founded the good old U. S. A.

JOIN THE PARADE FOR THAT HOUSING PROJECT. ATTEND THE PUBLIC HEARING AT THE CITY HALL TUESDAY, APRIL 12, at 7:30 P. M. SEE YOUR ALDERMAN THERE AND ASK HIM TO VOTE FOR THE 12th WARD HOUSING PROJECT.

This advertisement is sponsored and paid for by a group of Kingston residents who want to see the city advance.

If you are walking on the street keep your mind there too, not somewhere else. People who stop off the curb without thinking or looking all ways soon become mere statistics in the accident total. Don't take needless chances. Cross the street carefully and only at places where motorists may expect you, at intersections, away from parked cars. It's just a few steps to the end of the block; crossing in mid-block is not just lazy; it's dangerous.

The hit-and-run driver was brought to trial. His lawyer pleaded eloquently in his behalf: "Your honor, my client is a very careful driver. He has been driving a car for 11 years. Counsel (for plaintiff, shouting)—Your honor, my client should win this case without further argument. He has been walking for 45 years!"

A decrepit horse was being offered to the highest bidder. An old farmer watched as a young man in riding breeches bid for the animal. When the sale was completed, he turned to the young fellow:

Old Farmer—Tell me, what on earth are you going to do with that old nag?

Young Man—Oh, I'm going to race him.

Sickler Juniors Plan Benefit Game for Joe Albany Next Week

Pete's Weiners Hit 2541 in ABC Play; Leskie Shoots 604

Pete's Texas Weiners rolled 2541, out of the money in the A.B.C. tournament in Atlantic City this week, but team members crashed the prize list in singles and doubles.

Frank "Boots" Leskie, the veteran Central Race player, shot 604 in the singles with 234, 183 and 187.

Marty Kellenberger and Tommy Amato crashed the doubles prize list with 1109. "The Owl" shot 219-577, while Amato had 532.

The scores:

The long, tortuous basketball season will be prolonged for another week in Kingston, but for a worthy cause.

Sickler's Juniors announced today they would stage a benefit doubleheader for Joe Albany, a former teammate, on Wednesday, April 13, at the municipal auditorium.

The Juniors will meet Sickler's Delivery, City League champions, in the feature attraction. Wiltwyck Motors runnersup in the Y-Mid-Hudson tournament, battle the powerful Marlborough Legion in the preliminary.

The entire proceeds will be turned over to Joe Albany, who had to undergo an operation this week on his left leg. The old basketball injury which knocked him out of competition for nearly the entire season was aggravated recently and an operation was ordered.

Set Early Start For Hunting Days

Albany, N. Y., April 9 (AP)—New York hunters may start shooting all game except deer and bear at 9 a. m. on season-opening days, under a New York state law.

The period for opening days has been 12 noon to 5 p. m. Governor Dewey signed a measure yesterday making it 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The period for succeeding days remains 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. for all game.

Anglers Away!

Trout fishermen had the run of New York state waters today. But they found them cold and chilly.

Ulster county's favorite brook habitats swarmed with an army of anglers. All the familiar haunts were crowded at daybreak, while the Ashokan Reservoir also was expected to get a heavy play.

Bill Goodman, the district game protector, last week had predicted a good season for local anglers. Most of the streams are heavily stocked.

Crook and size limits are the same as last year. The minimum length for brook, brown and rainbow trout is seven inches, except for a 15-inch minimum on rainbow in Seneca, Canadaigua and Cayuga lakes. The daily maximum catch is 10 trout, except in the lakes of Westchester and Putnam counties where the limit is three.

The minimum length for lake trout is 15 inches. The daily limit is three, except in Lakes Erie and Ontario, where there is no limit.

Scoring High In The Masters

Augusta, Ga., April 9 (AP)—Unless birdies and eagles begin to fall in the final half of the Masters, the winner of golf's winter circuit classic will set a record high over the Augusta National course.

Herman Kelsner and Lloyd Mangrum, both oldtimers in professional golf, took 143 strokes each to reach today's third round. Behind them by one stroke is Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C.

Further back the good score shortage is acute. Five players are tied at 145; one has a 146; four have 147; seven have 148; five, 149; three, 150 and six, 151.

The leaders after the second round are a far different lot from those of the first round. With the exception of Mangrum, who has been winning in major golf since before the war.

Kelsner's great 68 yesterday, the lowest of the tournament, lifted him all the way from a six-way tie for 22nd place to the leaders' bracket. Herman won the 1946 Masters with a 72-hole score of 282—a considerably faster pace than he sets this year along with Mangrum.

Frank Stranahan, of Toledo, Ohio, who is to bobby sox golf fans what Frank Sinatra is to bobby sox singers, yesterday could not get near par. Much less below it, and blew to a 77. The five-over-par round dumped him from second place to the 147 bracket. His first round score was 70.

Campbell Leads High Falls Five

Ed Campbell scored 355 in 31 games to lead the High Falls Juniors in scoring during the 1948-49 season, according to figures received today. This represented an average of approximately 12 points.

Campbell scored 20 points or better on five different occasions, with a high of 29 against Stone Ridge. He tallied 124 fields and 47 goals.

G. Campbell was runnerup with 336 points. Others over 100 were J. Smith 133, H. Turner 126, E. Nagles 107.

Sports of the Day (IN BRIEF)

(By The Associated Press)

Golf

Augusta, Ga.—Herman Kelsner, St. Andrews, Ill., fired a second round four under par 68 to tie Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, at 143 for the lead in the Masters tournament.

French Lick, Ind.—Defending Champion Wilford Welby, Louisville, shot a 73 to take two strokes lead in opening round of the mid-west amateur golf tournament.

Tennis

Hamilton, Bermuda—Top seeded Earl Cochell, San Francisco, and veteran Sidney Wood, New York, reached the finals of the Coral Beach tennis tournament. Cochell turned back fourth-seeded Irvin Dorfman, New York, 6-3, 5-7, 9-7, while Wood stopped Fred D'Onofrio, Detroit, 6-3, 6-2. D'Onofrio, Alameda, Calif., won the Women's Single title, defeating Barbara Scofield, San Francisco, 6-1, 1-6, 6-3.

The 73rd annual IC4A outdoor track championship is slated for tomorrow at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, and also has gained two seconds city, on May 27 and 28.

Foster Rallies To Beat Taylor

Chicago, April 9 (AP)—After a strong finish in the last three rounds, Vince Foster of Omaha was awarded a split 10-round decision over rugged Chuck Taylor, ex-coal miner of Coalport, Pa., last night.

Foster, beset by a $100,000 lawsuit against him and rusty after three months out of the ring, next will meet Charlie Fusari in New York May 13.

A Chicago Stadium crowd of 11,594, which paid $51,477, watched the 22-year-old "Modern Nebraska Wildcat" close strong for his split decision over the surprising Taylor. The crowd loudly booed the decision.

Mississippi will play two Friday night football games next fall. Ole Miss meets Auburn September 23 at Montgomery, Ala., and goes to Boston October 14 to face Boston College.

Calumet Farm has won two of the last five Kentucky Derbies, and also has gained two seconds and a third.

New Mixed League At Bowlatorium

Formation of a new 10-team Mixed League for summer bowling was announced today by the Bowlatorium.

A meeting is scheduled for Monday at 7:15 at which time officers will be elected and a name selected for the league which will feature teams made up of three men and two women. Bowling starts at 7:30.

The loop will roll a two-round schedule of 18 weeks ending on August 8.

Franchises already announced are held by the American Legion, Chez Emile and Progress Bowlers.

Age Before Beauty

New York (AP)—The New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates will open the season with the oldest infielders in the National League. Each team's inner defense totals 121 years. The Phillies have the youngest infield, totaling 106 years, two years less than Cincinnati's total.

Local Death Record

Funeral services for Nettie Campbell of 115 Broadway were held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Friday afternoon, the Rev. Lewine A. Weaver officiating. Burial was in Mt. Zion Cemetery.

Miss Margaret Reilly of Rosendale died in Kingston last night after a brief illness. She was a member of St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, and the various women's societies of the church. She is survived by a nephew Dr. William S. Bush of Kingston. Funeral services will be held from the George J. Moylan Funeral Home, Main street, Rosendale, at a time and date to be announced later.

Gertrude Keyser Baumgartner, wife of Richard Baumgartner, died at West New York, N. J., on April 7. The remains will arrive in Kingston for funeral services on Monday, April 11, at 2 p. m. at the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl street. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery. She leaves behind her husband, two brothers, William and Walter Keyser of Kingston; three sisters, Mrs. Nellie Genthner, Mrs. Oliver Ryan, of Kingston and Mrs. Ernest Smith of Sleightsburgh; also several nieces and nephews.

Frederick Groene of Hurley died Friday in this city after a short illness. Mr. Groene had been a resident of Hurley for the past 18 years and at one time was employed in the Hurley County Office; and later was engaged in the real estate business. He was a member of the West Hurley Methodist Church and Beethoven Lodge, 661, F. & A. M., of New York City. He is survived by his wife, Harriet Groene of Hurley; three daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Basch and Mrs. Dorothy Steuding of Hurley and Mrs. Charlotte Lawson of Washington, D. C.; five grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Gus Nussbaum of West Hurley, Mrs. Chris Dampman and William Groene of Woodside, L. I. Funeral services will be held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, 296 Fair street, Monday, April 11, 1949, at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Hurley Cemetery.

Funeral services for James F. Malone, of Sawkill, were held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue, on Wednesday at 9:15 a. m. and at St. Ann's Church, Sawkill, where a high Mass of requiem was offered at 10 o'clock. Rev. Father James A. Dunnigan officiated. The responses to the Mass were sung by Felix Huggar, assisted by Angelo Altamore at the organ. At the conclusion of the Mass he sang Ave Maria. Tuesday evening, Father Dunnigan called at the funeral home and led in the recitation of the Rosary. St. Ann's Holy Name Society also recited the Rosary. Burial was in St. Ann's cemetery, Sawkill. The bearers were Joseph Leahy, Edward Leahy, Louis Hulsner, Michael Haggerty, Scott Prendergast and Joseph Barryman.

The funeral of John C. Flork was held today at 9 a. m. from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home and at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. A high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. John A. Flaherty with the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Martin J. Drury, P.R.V.F., and the Rev. Edward J. Farrelly seated in the sanctuary. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir under the direction of Theodore Riccobono, organist. Many relatives and friends assisted at the requiem. During the time the remains reposed in the home scores of acquaintances called to offer sympathy and condolences to the bereaved. Clergy calling were Messrs. Drury and the Rev. Henry Haggerty. Tuesday evening Father Farrelly visited the home and assisted by those present recited the Rosary. Bearers were William Albertini, John Goloski, William Lake, Frank Stopski, Edward Murphy and Robert McCutcheon. Mass in St. Peter's cemetery where final absolution and blessing was given by Mgr. Drury assisted by Father Farrelly.

The funeral of P.E.C. James J. Dugan, Jr. was held Friday at 9:30 a. m. from the home of his parents, 58 Brewster street, and at 10 a. m. at St. Mary's Church, where a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered by the Right Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury, P.R.V.F., the Rev. John A. Flaherty, acting as deacon and the Rev. Edward J. Farrelly, as sub-deacon. Responses to the Mass were by the children's choir. Following the blessing of the body, the choir sang the National Anthem. The soloist, Wilfred K. Entrott, sang Panis Angelicus at the offertory and as the flag-draped casket was borne from the church, Miss Entrott sang Ave Maria, assisted by Theodore Riccobono, organist. The church was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends who came to pay their last tribute of respect to the veteran by assisting at the requiem. During the time the body reposed at the home, hundreds called to offer their sympathy and condolences to the bereaved family. The clergy calling and offering the prayers for the dead were Monsignor Drury and Father Flaherty. On Thursday evening, St. Mary's Holy Name Society, led by John Grancy, president, assisted Father Farrelly in the recitation of the rosary. Thursday at 7 p. m., Usher DeMott of the Marine Corps League called and held a ritual service with Theodore Flaherty as commandant and the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger as chaplain. A large delegation from Company M. Veterans Association also called and held a ritualistic service with Alfred Messinger as commander and James R. Howard as chaplain. Many employees of the post office followed the casket of the veteran's father, also called. Active bearers, all ex-Marines and friends of P.E.C. Dugan, were Joseph Kinan, Jr., Donald Shader, Carey Gleason, Michael Scitile, William Shader and John Wolfenstein. Honorary bearers were members of Company M. Veterans Association. Full military honors were accorded at the grave by the Kingston Veterans Association. The color guard was composed of Thomas Boman, Andrew Murphy III, Louis Tudoroff.

Gets 180 Days

Sen. Glen Taylor, Idaho Democrat, said he would appeal all the way to the Supreme Court, if necessary, after a Birmingham, Ala., circuit court sentenced him to 180 days at hard labor and fined him $50 for his brush with Jim Crow laws last year. Taylor said he was "pleased" with the verdict because he hopes to have Birmingham segregation laws declared unconstitutional.

Tito Says Slavs Feel Free to Trade With West

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, April 9 (AP)—Premier Marshal Tito defiantly served notice today that Yugoslavia feels free to deal economically with the west.

Sun-tanned and dapper in a blue uniform, Tito spoke for two hours and 12 minutes before the Peoples' Front Congress in the great hall of suburban Topchidar's tree-lined—and well-guarded—park.
It was his first major address since New Year's Eve. Then he had spoken harshly at the Cominform neighbors who 10 months ago denounced him for pursuing Nationalist and Trotskyist policies. Today, Tito hit back again. He was in an independent and defiant mood. He charged that Russia and her Soviet satellites in the Cominform (Communist Information Bureau) were attempting to promote a civil war in Yugoslavia by attempting to persuade his country's mixed population to throw out his regime.

Hungary Rejects Violation Charges

Budapest, Hungary, April 9 (AP)—Hungary today rejected American and British charges that she has violated her human rights treaty pledges, and leveled counter-charges of her own.
The American and British governments sent notes to Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria on April 2 demanding they carry out their treaty pledges to respect the human rights and freedoms of all their peoples. The notes specifically protested against Hungary's imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

Barrel Factory May Close Down If Men Stay Out

Henry Leeds, manager of the American Coopersage, Inc., with office at 610 Fifth avenue, New York, said Friday that the local plant of the concern may be forced to close permanently if the men, who have been out for more than two weeks, remain out any longer.

Twelve men employed at the local plant staged a walk-out in sympathy with 24 employees of the Milltown, N. J., plant, who have been on strike for about four weeks.
The manager of the concern warned all employees, he said, that "if they stay out too long, and we lose customers, we may be forced to close down."
Picketing has been in progress at the New Jersey plant since the strike was called. Leeds said, but the local plant was not picketed. Employees of the concern are members of the Coopers International Union.

and Robert B. Zimmer. Members of the firing squad were John R. Mayone, Achilles Naccarato, Eugene Barkow, Wendell E. Scherer and Donald G. Moore. After the three volleys, taps were sounded by John R. Mayone. The American flag which draped the casket was presented to the family by Sgt. Robert Crump, the Marine escort who accompanied the body from the Brooklyn Army Base. There also was a large delegation from the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary at the committal service. There were many beautiful floral tributes and spiritual bouquets. Burial took place in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery where the final absolution and blessing was given by Monsignor Drury, assisted by Father Flaherty and Farrelly.

Cab Strike Ended, Chances of Lewis As Leader Fade

Extra Duty Policemen Are Taken Off Posts as 90 Per Cent of Cars Operate

New York, April 9 (AP)—A week-long taxicab strike was at an end today.
For the time being at least, so was John L. Lewis' hope of representing 30,000 New York cab drivers and mechanics.

His Taxi Workers Organizing Committee called off the strike late yesterday after police said more than 90 per cent of the cabs were operating.

Normally, there are 10,000 on the streets.
Mayor William O'Dwyer promptly freed from emergency duty hundreds of extra police who had manned streets to keep them open for non-striking taxicabs.

The Taxi Workers Organizing Committee, a unit of Lewis' United Mine Workers, called the strike April 1 in a demand for recognition.

In ending the strike for "tactical" reasons, Union Regional Director Walter Brock said the operators "in due time will be forced to recognize the organization."

Will File Charges
He added that the union would file unfair labor charges with the State Labor Relations Board. The charges, he said, would be "one of the most sordid episodes of labor oppression in the United States."

In a parting blast at Mayor O'Dwyer, Brock called him the "number-one, double-crossing, strike-breaking mayor of all time."

O'Dwyer let the comment pass without reply.
A spokesman for the operators said the strike "never should have been called," and added: "The union never had any membership. This was purely an outside effort."

The strike came after the city's fleet operators, who employ 6,529 drivers, were the chief targets of the strike. The other drivers, who work independently, were urged to stay out in sympathy. Some of them did for a time.

During the strike, there were 65 arrests on both sides but no serious disorders.

Each side accused the other of importing "skull cracking gons" to fight out the issue on the city's streets. Such a battle never took place.

ter and bring her up the larger pipe.

Complicating the problem, riggers said, was the possibility the old pipe might have a bend or two, and also might contain some water, although the well has not been used in recent years.

Don Metz, construction engineer in charge of the excavation and an old friend of Kathy's family, said he was certain he saw the little girl last evening with the aid of searchlights. Later he looked but couldn't see her.

A rubber ball was lowered on a wire and stopped at a depth of 87 feet, indicating the child was at that level. Later another ball was dropped and descended 100 feet before stopping, indicating she had slipped to that depth.

"I'm keeping my fingers crossed," Metz said. She's my sweetheart. I've known her ever since she was born.
There had been no cry or word from little Kathy since about an hour after she tumbled down the shaft while running after her sister, Barbara, nine, and cousin, Gus Lyon, five, in a vacant lot.

"We can only hope Kathy is sleeping," said police Chief Glen McClung, explaining what was on the mind of every passer-by and watcher, including Kathy's distraught parents, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Fiscus. Hundreds stayed on through the night to watch the rescue efforts.

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

Harold G. Dobson of Blockport, grand master of Royal and Select Masters of the State of New York, will visit Hudson Council Monday night. Hudson and Catskill Council will confer degrees on a class of 22 candidates. Members of Ancient City Council of Kingston will confer degrees on a class of 12 candidates. The measure states that special allotments, to be given out by the state education commissioner with approval of the budget director, are intended to "avoid unusual and excessive hardship." It earmarks $200,000 in the state's local assistance fund to provide for the extra aid. The bill was introduced by Senator John D. Bennett, Rockville Center Republican.

Lights Being Used

The new sodium vapor lights installed by the State Public Works Department through co-operation of the local Board of Public Works and the Esopus town board on the Rondout creek bridge are now in service. Twenty-one 100-candlepower lights were replaced by the new system of seven 1,600-candlepower lights. They were turned on first for a test April 5 and are now in permanent use, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk announced.

E.R.P. Expected To Get Approval In House Today

Washington, April 9 (AP)—The $5,580,000,000 European Recovery Program went to the House today stamped with the overwhelming approval of the Senate.

Even administration leaders were startled by yesterday's lopsided 70 to 7 Senate vote for the bill approving another 15 months of Marshall Plan aid to non-Communist western Europe.

The House was called into extraordinary session today (noon) to take up the authorization measure. Both Democratic and Republican leaders predicted quick approval.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) said he expected a "great majority" in the House.

Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts told reporters: "I believe the Economic Cooperation Administration bill will be approved overwhelmingly with bipartisan support."

The bill approved by the House Foreign Affairs Committee is a little different from the one passed by the Senate.

The Economic Cooperation Administration asked—and got from the Senate—authorization to spend $1,150,000,000 up to June 30; $4,280,000,000 for the 12 months starting July 1; plus $150,000,000 in long-term contract authority.

The House committee lopped $50,000,000 off the first figure and turned down the contract authorization, for a total cut of $200,000,000. Then it wrote into the bill a government guarantee for private investors of up to $272,000,000.

The result, committee members said, would be a $720,000,000 addition to total Marshall Plan spending in the next 15 months, if private investors can be induced to sink their money in Europe up to the full guarantee.

A vote on this measure is expected Monday or Tuesday. After that House and Senate clear up any differences between the two bills, their appropriations committees will be called on to write legislation providing the actual cash.

More State Aid

Albany, N. Y., April 9 (AP)—Governor Dewey yesterday signed a bill providing additional state aid for public schools in areas where construction of new housing developments have "extraordinarily increased" pupil enrollment. The measure states that special allotments, to be given out by the state education commissioner with approval of the budget director, are intended to "avoid unusual and excessive hardship." It earmarks $200,000 in the state's local assistance fund to provide for the extra aid. The bill was introduced by Senator John D. Bennett, Rockville Center Republican.

Chairman Davis Interviewed on Housing Project

The Freeman has interviewed Arthur A. Davis, Jr., chairman of the Kingston Housing Authority, with respect to the proposed housing project in the 12th Ward. The following are the questions submitted by The Freeman and the answers given by Mr. Davis:

Q—Will the proposed housing project provide additional housing for the City of Kingston?
A—Yes. The first area planned to be acquired for the purposes of clearing substandard dwellings contains 27 dwelling units. Compared with this, the project will provide 100 dwelling units.

Q—Will residents of the area to be cleared be admitted as tenants in the new project without regard to their qualifications?
A—No. They will be required to meet the same qualifications required of all tenants.

Q—Will occupancy be limited to residents from any one particular section of the city?
A—No. Tenants are expected to be selected from all parts of the city.

Q—Will veterans be given preference?
A—Veterans will very definitely be given preference.

Q—Have such projects, as contemplated for Kingston, been successful in other cities?
A—Yes. Evidence of this is shown by the fact that cities which have completed one project often submit applications for additional loans for another project. Cities such as New York, New York, and Schenectady are examples of cities which have three housing developments.

Q—Is the $1,200,000 development cost a loan from the state and, if so, how will it be repaid?
A—The $1,200,000 is a loan from New York state to the Kingston Housing Authority. It will be repaid to the state over a 50-year period from the rental of apartments in the project.

Q—What does the $42,000 annual subsidy mean?
A—Public Housing Law permits the state to give a project an annual subsidy equal to the current state interest rate plus 1 per cent. In the case of Kingston, the project the amount will be $42,000 per year. This will permit rentals to be at a rate of less than $9 per room per month.

Q—Will there be adequate school facilities?
A—Communication from the Board of Education reveals that the school facilities will be adequate. Maximum capacity of the project will be 420 persons. It is reasonable to believe that there will be less than 420 persons when the apartments in the project are first completely rented. Two-hundred of the occupants will consist of husbands with their wives. The balance of the occupants will consist of children of pre-school age, children of elementary school age, children going to Myron J. Michael Junior High or the high school and other children and adults beyond school age. The only school which would be subject to an increase in numbers is Schenectady No. 7. The Board of Education has made plans to take care of this increase. In September all seventh grade pupils in all schools in the city will be in Myron J. Michael School.

Betty Ritchie Admits Dennis Gave Her Mink

Santa Monica, April 9 (AP)—Betty Ritchie, pretty sweetheart of Gerard Dennis, accused society burglar, told in court yesterday how she got a $35,000 mink coat.

She is charged with receiving it as stolen property.
She said, "Gerry gave it (the mink) to me" last November. Dennis told her he bought it second hand when she asked him why it had no label, she added.

In addition to the mink, claimed by Mrs. White Phillips, wife of a 12 million dollar magnate, officers found more than $100,000 in a locked closet in Miss Ritchie's apartment. She testified she didn't know what was in the closet.

Columbia Squires

Install Officers

Walter S. Foster of 58 Andrew street was installed as chief squire of the newly formed Circle No. 32, Columbian Squires by Joseph E. McTague, chancellor of Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, the sponsoring institution. Other officers installed were: James S. Smith, deputy chief squire; Robert A. White, bursar; Walter P. Smith, notary; William Welhof, marshal; and Charles Roach, sentry. Assisting Chancellor McTague in the installation ceremonies were Chief Counsellors Bernard A. Culliton, Counsellors Charles Trice, James Rigney, Bernard O'Neill, Andrew McDermott, and the Rev. James A. Dunnigan, Father Prior of the circle.

William L. Piedmont, assistant director of the Boy Life Bureau of the Knights of Columbus National Office in New Haven, Conn., was present at the ceremonies, and addressing the boys stressed the five phases in activities to develop leadership among boys. He first developed the program and explained the methods and meanings of the work of the spiritual, social, cultural, civic and athletic committees. Grand Knight Joseph F. Saccoman of the sponsoring council welcomed the new Circle which is starting out with a membership of New York City, ages of 14 and 17. In his remarks the grand knight spoke of the need of planned supervision of our youth and to further their love for God and country.

America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service

I received a letter from C. W. Serase, who is in Westminster

Veterans Hospital, London, Ontario. He asked me if I consider amateurs in my column, and my answer is that almost everybody who is mentioned in my column is an amateur. The fact that one may have a rating as a good player does not make him completely out of the amateur class. Any expert will tell you that he revokes, trumps his partner's ace, leads out of turn and makes bad bids, just as everyone else does.

Mr. Serase sent me today's hand.

He said that the four players were using a hospital bed for a bridge table. He was a little bit late getting over to the game, so he had to kibitz. South was a visitor, the girl friend of the boy who was playing North. Mr. Serase was standing behind her when this hand was dealt, and to everybody's amazement, her first bid was four no trump. He did not tell me whether North's response was actually a five club bid or a Blackwood bid, but in any event, the girl immediately went to six clubs. He asked for my comments on the bidding.

It's tough to tell wounded veterans they were wrong in their bidding. I will say, however, that the girl friend showed great confidence in her boy friend when she bid six clubs. It was fortunate that she did not go to six diamonds, but that might easily have been the correct contract.

Now I am going to leave myself wide open by giving what I think would be the bidding of most experts on the hand. I think most of them with the South hand would open the bidding with one club. North then could bid either two clubs or one diamond, neither of which is a strength-showing bid.

Suppose that North bids a diamond. South could make a jump bid of two spades, and North would then bid three clubs. If they were using Blackwood, South then should bid four no trump.

Worcester, Mass., April 9 (AP)—A Putnam, Conn., man died en route to City Hospital after falling through a department store plate glass window. Doctors said the death of George Corlidge, 48, was due to a heart attack. The victim's son, Raymond, who was walking with his father, said he complained of nausea and collapsed against the window.

Red Soldiers Add Pressure With Big Drive on Yangtze
Nanking, April 9 (AP)—China's Communists put pressure behind their peace demands today by exploding an offensive against Nationalist north-bank bridgeheads along a 650-mile Yangtze river front.

Red troops hammered at remaining government positions north of the great river in a wide-scale operation which military observers say is setting the stage for major assaults across the Yangtze into South China.
With the heat on militarily, the government's peace delegation resumed negotiations in Peiping. But they were mostly marking time while top Nationalist officials assembled in Nanking for a crucial decision.

The Nanking meeting was for the framing of the final government reply to Communist demands for virtual surrender on the basis of the eight conditions laid down in January by Mao Tse-tung, the No. 1 Communist.
On the far-flung fighting front, the government admitted the loss of Ichang, an important ferry landing 28 miles northeast of Nanking. The Reds unleashed other attacks on other smaller bridgeheads on the north bank opposite the nervous Nationalist capital itself.

Gen. Tang En-po, Nationalist commander in the vital Shanghai-Hongchow-Nanking triangle, was reportedly personally directing defensive operations against a Red thrust on an important bridgehead opposite Chinkiang, Chinkiang, 39 miles east and a little north of Nanking, is the capital of Kiangsu province.

Gromyko to Seek U.N. Trusteeship
Lake Success, April 9 (AP)—A source familiar with Soviet policy said he expects Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko will demand today a United Nations trusteeship over all of Italy's pre-war colonies in Africa.

Gromyko is slated to make his first big speech since he was promoted to chief deputy foreign minister in the recent shakeup of high Soviet officials. He has asked to talk to the 58-nation political committee of the U.N. Assembly, which is considering what to do with the former Italian colonies.
The United States, France and Britain already have given their views. The U. S. suggested Libya be put under U.N. trusteeship with Britain administering Cyrenaica, the eastern part; that Ethiopia be given eastern Eritrea outright, and that Italy administer old Italian Somaliland under U.N. trusteeship.

Fence Damaged, Driver Fails to Tell Police
An automobile smashed through the fence of the Secony Vacuum Oil Company property at 1 North street sometime during the night, police reported.

Several fence posts were knocked down. Apparently the driver backed his car out after the accident, pulling the wire from the fence on to the street, police said.
Broken glass from a window and parking light and parts of an outside rear view mirror found by police indicate that the automobile was damaged. Police are attempting to locate the automobile today. The driver did not report the accident, police said.

The accident was discovered at 5:15 a. m. today by Patrolmen Gerald Every and Claude Rines, who were making their regular patrol.

Concert Preview
A full preview performance of the band concert was given on Thursday afternoon before both assemblies. The concert also was given for pupils of the grammar schools. The regular concert was given Friday night in the school auditorium. The featured attractions were four solos by Roy Boldt, who played Repertoire, Bennett, on the piano; Richard Campbell, clarinet, who played Concert Fantasia; Harry Castiglione, trombone, who played The Lord's Prayer; by Malotte and Oskar Diederich Schriever, who played His Honor, a march by Filmore, on the accordion. Proceeds from the concert will go toward the purchase of new uniforms for the band. The concert was under the direction of Martin J. Morrette.

"Quill and Scroll"
In a special assembly Friday members of Dame Rumor were inducted into the Quill and Scroll Society. They were Joan Bennett, Burwell Decker, Betty Flint, Joan Kelsch, Owen Cassidy, Carl Lipton, Yolanda Turk, Ray Hendricks, Helen Heikinen, Mary Dunn, Joan Lacey and Ann Grasser.

Master of ceremonies were Dave Ruff, Peter Rakov and Gary Short. The following are requirements for membership in the Quill and Scroll: Applicants must be at least a junior, in the upper third of their class, must have accomplished some outstanding work in some phase of school, must be recommended by the advisor and must be approved by the executive secretary.

Also at Friday's assembly program the varsity cheerleaders received their letters. William Kites, president of the Athletic Association, presented the following girls with their letters: Dolores McGrath, captain; Janet Rose, Clare Rafferty, Marilyn Burke, Rose Saccomani and Carol Schoonmaker. Doris Parslow and Mickey Amarello were not eligible for letters. Junior varsity cheerleaders also were praised for their fine work during the season. Members of this squad were Betty Flint, Audrey Burke, Mary Chmura, Peggy Koltz, Carol Cunningham and Rachel Canitz.

Junior Prom
Students of the school are still being requested to purchase tickets for the annual Junior Prom as soon as possible in order that arrangements may be made with Ted Riccobono's orchestra. The prom will be held in the M.J.M. School gymnasium Saturday night, April 30. Dancing will be held from 9 to 12 midnight. The dance will be semi-formal. Tickets may be obtained in the front corridor. Entertainment will be furnished during the intermission.

Intramural Softball
Boys' intramural softball is now being organized through the school. The teams will be organized according to their home rooms. Each home room is to elect a captain and submit a list of players to Coach C. Warren Kline. Games will be played every Monday, Wednesday and Friday after school, behind the high school. The schedule will begin following the Easter vacation on April 25.

Senior Play Tryouts
During the past week Miss Madeline Tarrant, dramatic director of the high school, contacted most of the outstanding junior boys to try to interest them for next year's senior play. Also discussed was the possibility of staging the annual play in the fall of the year instead of during the winter season as has been the custom.

M. C. at Ball

DON CUMMINGS

Don Cummings, a recent hit at the Paramount Theatre in New York and who also appeared on Ed Sullivan's television show "Toast of the Town," will be the master of ceremonies at the Easter Monday ball sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital.

The affair, slated for Monday, April 18, at the municipal auditorium, also will feature the popular music of Jacques Roth and his WOR orchestra.

Cummings, who will come here through the Nat. M. Abrahamson agency of the WOR entertainment department, is currently appearing at the RKO Theatre in Cleveland.

Russian Scientists Get Stalin Prize

Moscow, April 9 (AP)—The Soviet Council of Ministers today awarded the Stalin Prize for 1948 for discoveries and inventions by Russian scientists in the atomic and cosmic ray fields, for developing new type weapons and planes, and other achievements.

To George Latyshev, head of the laboratory of the Leningrad Institute of Physics and Technical Research went a prize for experimental research in "the sphere of the atomic nucleus."

A similar prize went to Sergei Vernov, of the Moscow State University, for "experimental study of cosmic rays in the upper strata of the atmosphere."
